TRAINED EYE OF JIM CREEDON SAVES POCKETBOOKS FOR MANY DURING SATURDAY NIGHT SHOW

Detective Observes Veteran Pickpockets Before They Begin Work.

SENT FROM TOWN

Police Court Again Kept Busy During Saturday.

The trained and experienced eye of Jimmy Creedon, of the Columbus detective force, saved numerous Pumpkin Show visitors their wallets Saturday night. Standing at Court and Main-sts in the thick of Pumpkin Show traffic, Creedon was watching for anything that might occur which was not according to law and order, and it wasn't long that he had to wait.

Two "gentlemen" walked up on the curbing and took off their overcoats, put them under their arms and started down the street, according to Creedon, to "fleece" many good persons. But they didn't get that far. Jimmy spotted one of the men as a man whom he had seen in a "rogue's gallery" and taking for granted that no good would come from their visit, followed them for a few minutes and then placed them under arrest. One of the men looked up when he saw Creedon and said, "My gosh, Jimmy, if I'd known you were here we never would have stopped."

Creedon took the men to police headquarters where they said there names were Denny O'Keefe and J. J. Johnson from Chicago, and admitted their ability to pickpockets was second to none in the middle west.

MEN IDENTIFIED
John Myers, a former chief of police of this city, who now lives in Chicago, identified O'Keefe as a brother to an O'Keefe in Chicago who operated a restaurant at 63rd and Wabash-ave in that city, whose place became so noted that it was wrecked and pad-locked. When asked of the relationship Mr. O'Keefe willingly admitted the man to be his brother.

Police didn't hold the pair but took them to the 9:15 p. m. bus Saturday and sent them toward Columbus. It is thought a third member was in the party but was not arrested.

The two men said they understood there was to be a festival at Lancaster Saturday night and had gone to that city but upon inquiry learned that Circleville was the scene of the celebration Lancaster's coming one week before. They purchased bus tickets and came to this city.

Both men were above 50 years in age.

RICH BANKER IS KIDNAPED

Wife of Illinois Man Receives Letter Asking Ransom For Man's Return.

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 27.—Police were pushing a state-wide search today for Earl L. Yocum, millionaire banker who was kidnapped from his home here and is believed held for ransom. Armed posses have searched the western part of the state for 36 hours.

Authorities were convinced that Yocum was kidnapped for ransom purposes today after the missing banker's wife received a special delivery letter written in her husband's hand.

The letter, presumably written at the dictation of the kidnappers, informed Mrs. Yocum that her husband was being held for extortion. The note also said no harm as yet had been done to the captive.

Fearing that the information might reach officers and place the life of her husband in further danger, Mrs. Yocum refused to ask the advice of her closest friends. She said she would decide today what action she would take. The banker's wife was in a state of collapse.

Yocum, who is president of the Yocum State Bank of Galva, and a wealthy landowner, was last seen by his wife Saturday night when he stopped at the front entrance way of his home to give road directions to two strangers.

The banker presumably walked to the street to point out the roads, was seized, forced into a waiting automobile and carried away.

COUNTER-COUP IS PLANNED IN BRAZIL AFFAIR

Rumor Says President-Elect Working In Sao Paulo To Gain Presidency.

REBELS CAREFUL

German-Brazil Controversy Over Deaths Continues.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 27.—Rumors reaching here from Montevideo, Uruguay today declared that Dr. Julio Prestes, who was chosen president of Brazil in the last election, is planning a counter-coup against the revolutionary regime which deposed the administration of Washington Luis.

The rumors could not be confirmed here. A Brazil censorship is still being exercised over all news emanating from Brazil.

Had it not been for the successful revolution, Dr. Prestes would have been inaugurated president on Nov. 15, when Washington Luis' term of office legally expires. Dr. Prestes' coup is being planned in the state of Sao Paulo, which was the last to capitulate to revolutionists, the rumors declared.

CONCENTRATE FORCES

Dispatches from Rio Grande stated the revolutionaries were continuing to concentrate their forces in the states of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo for the purpose of backing up their plan to overthrow the provisional military junta now in control, whose leaders the insurrectionists regard as interlopers.

HAMBURG, Oct. 27.—The German steamship Baden, fired on while leaving the port of Rio de Janeiro, had special permission from the harbor master to clear, according to a report of the incident wirelessly to the Hamburg American line today by the Baden's captain.

Previous reports from Rio de Janeiro had quoted Brazilian authorities as saying the Baden had failed to obtain permission before leaving the port. The captain reported 26 persons were killed and 43 wounded when a shell from Fort Copacabana struck the liner.

The Brazilian authorities have promised a state burial for the victims and indemnity for the injured.

Officials of the line here branded as ridiculous reports from Rio de Janeiro that the Baden had been shelled because of its alleged failure to display a flag. Although the line stoutly maintained a flag must have been flown, it was pointed out the fortress could not have seen whether an emblem was displayed or not, as the vessel left the harbor in complete darkness.

R. L. BREHMER'S FLOAT WINNER OF BIG PARADE

Industrial Parade, Claimed Greatest, is Climax of Annual Event.

ARE ENTERED

Fine Friday, Saturday Crowds Bring Attendance Up.

In a blaze of hilarity and noise Circleville's 27th annual Pumpkin Show came to an end Saturday night with a large crowd of visitors from every point in Pickaway-co and central Ohio taking part in the celebration. Directors of the show Monday express their satisfaction at the crowds which gathered especially Friday and Saturday. Wednesday's crowd was typical of opening nights and a rain which started to fall early Thursday and continued throughout the day greatly reduced the crowd.

Taking into consideration the drouth which swept the county during the greater part of the summer, the displays were excellent. Some of the classes showed a fine increase over previous shows both in size and quality of the display.

The feature of the Pumpkin Show as in other years was the industrial parade which was staged Friday and Saturday afternoons. In order to be eligible for a prize it was necessary for a contestant to take part in both afternoon's parades.

FLOAT OUTSTANDING

R. L. Brehmer, local Ford dealer, carried away first award in the parade with his float, an airplane mounted on an automobile. It was the 31 entrants in the parade, the display of workmanship was outstanding. Practically everyone who witnessed the parade either Friday afternoon or Saturday afternoon was convinced that Brehmer's float was outstanding and one of the prettiest seen in years.

The float was done in white with trimmings of blue. Buddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brehmer, was the plane's pilot with David Elyard and Caroline Herrmann in the automobile seats. Elsie Ann Brehmer and Biddy Dowden were standing at the back of the float.

The Circle City Dairy, milk distributors had their milk trucks also so in line, lead by a pretty float. This display took second prize.

The third prize for a float went to the local Elks lodge No. 77, with a float which exemplified the lodge. Ferd M. Pickens and Billie Bennett Hoffer represented brotherly love; Eleanor Snyder, Charity, Evelyn Adams, Quality; and Minnie Lyle, Fidelity. Five horses were ridden, one at each corner of the float, by Misses Ruth Holman, Gladys Steinarud, Mabel Young, Ann Bennett and Mary Walters.

DRESSED IN PURPLE
All persons on the float and on the horses were dressed in the lodge colors, purple and white.

Fourth prize was awarded to Spangler and Hill with their truck filled with cattle, hogs, chickens and ducks marked "Farm Relief."

Fifth award went to the Four-H dairy heifer club showing dairy improvement.

On account of so many worthy entries in the parade, on recommendation of the judges, A. J. Best, Pittsburgh; Lee A. Wiser, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Clark Marion and Mrs. E. P. Cox, Hamilton, it was decided to give extra prizes.

TED'S CLARINET THRILLS THROG

Ted Lewis came back to town Saturday night in all his glory and for five minutes treated a large crowd of dancers at the C. A. C. gymnasium with the hottest clarinet music it has ever heard. Just as though he were in front of his own band of master musicians, Ted went through the paces and even outdid himself to please his many friends who were watching him.

Such a crowd poured onto the floor to be closer to Ted that he was forced to stop his music to permit the dance to continue.

RICH BANKER IS KIDNAPED

Wife of Illinois Man Receives Letter Asking Ransom For Man's Return.

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 27.—Police were pushing a state-wide search today for Earl L. Yocum, millionaire banker who was kidnaped from his home here and is believed held for ransom. Armed posses have searched the western part of the state for 36 hours.

Authorities were convinced that Yocum was kidnaped for ransom purposes today after the missing banker's wife received a special delivery letter written in her husband's hand.

The letter, presumably written at the dictation of the kidnappers, informed Mrs. Yocum that her husband was being held for extortion. The note also said no harm as yet had been done to the captive.

Fearing that the information might reach officers and place the life of her husband in further danger, Mrs. Yocum refused to ask the advice of her closest friends. She said she would decide today what action she would take. The banker's wife was in a state of collapse.

Yocum, who is president of the Yocum State Bank of Galva, and a wealthy landowner, was last seen by his wife Saturday night when he stopped at the front entrance way of his home to give road directions to two strangers.

The banker presumably walked to the street to point out the roads, was seized, forced into a waiting automobile and carried away.

INJURIES FATAL

GREENFIELD, O., Oct. 27.—Amputation of his right leg and right arm had proved fatal today to John McCloskey, 56. The man was fatally injured Saturday when he fell into a saw at Fruitdale, near here. He died in a hospital yesterday.

Pet Parade Again Wins Much Praise

The Pet parade in the Pumpkin Show under the chairmanship of Proctor Baughman Saturday afternoon was a scream. Every boy in town under 12 years of age had a dog, his or his neighbor's, in this section. The first prize for a typical boy and his dog went to Junior Scott; the second to Carl Mader and his bull dog, "Bob" with Jack Smallwood third; Byron Gulick, fourth and Horace Gilmore, fifth.

In class A, David Yates had a terrible time with his cat and Cliff Butch, as a hunter, one boot off and one boot on, led "Spike," everybody's dog, at the end of a chain.

Class B was for the typical little girl and her pet. In this class, Iva Lamparter was first; Phyllis Young, second; Helen Lucille Evans, third; Antelo Miller, fourth, and Louise Bensonhaver, fifth.

TAG EATEN

Both boys and girls were in this next section, class C, with Donald Jenkins winning first, and Harmon Hosler, on a pony, second. The third prize was taken by a little girl with a goat, and as the goat ate the tag it was impossible to get her name.

Class D was the class open to all ages, being a novel display of pets.

First in this division was Mary Smallwood; Junior Pierce, second; Bobby Grub, third; Jane Cryder, fourth, and Nelson Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones, fifth.

In the next class, E, for freak pets the first was taken by Ada Schlisler and second to Mildred Fox.

Class F, an open class to any person of any age with any pet, was won by Martha Newton; second, Robert Smallwood; third, Harold Brown; fourth, Byron Gulick, and fifth, Rita Jeanne Ryan.

Class G was for the greatest number of pets entered in the parade and Junior Pierce took first; Mary Smallwood, second; Lloyd Jones, Jr., third; Cane Colwell, fourth, and William Towers, fifth.

A large crowd all along the line of march cheered the children as they passed. This is another parade during the Pumpkin Show which is always watched with interest.

The beautiful country home of Mrs. L. B. James, W. Mound-st, in Union-twp., Ross-co., valued at more than $16,000 was completely burned to the ground on Monday morning when it is thought a spark from a chimney ignited the roof.

The blaze was discovered at 9:30 a. m. by a farm hand who was coming into the driveway. He notified the Chillicothe fire department who hurried to the scene. The fire had gained such headway that the building was completely destroyed.

Mrs. Walter Dimity, wife of the tenant on the farm, was able to remove part of the household furniture from the house but much of it was destroyed.

The house is insured for $8,000 less than half its value.

COUNTER-COUP IS PLANNED IN BRAZIL AFFAIR

Rumor Says President-Elect Working In Sao Paulo To Gain Presidency.

REBELS CAREFUL

German-Brazil Controversy Over Deaths Continues.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 27.—Rumors reaching here from Montevideo, Uruguay today declared that Dr. Julio Prestes, who was chosen president of Brazil in the last election, is planning a counter-coup against the revolutionary regime which deposed the administration of Washington Luis.

The rumors could not be confirmed here. A Brazil censorship is still being exercised over all news emanating from Brazil.

Had it not been for the successful revolution, Dr. Prestes would have been inaugurated president on Nov. 15, when Washington Luis' term of office legally expires. Dr. Prestes' coup is being planned in the state of Sao Paulo, which was the last to capitulate to revolutionists, the rumors declared.

CONCENTRATE FORCES

Dispatches from Rio Grande stated the revolutionaries were continuing to concentrate their forces in the states of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo for the purpose of backing up their plan to overthrow the provisional military junta now in control, whose leaders the insurrectionists regard as interlopers.

HAMBURG, Oct. 27.—The German steamship Baden, fired on while leaving the port of Rio de Janeiro, had special permission from the harbor master to clear, according to a report of the incident wirelessly to the Hamburg American line today by the Baden's captain.

Previous reports from Rio de Janeiro had quoted Brazilian authorities as saying the Baden had failed to obtain permission before leaving the port. The captain reported 26 persons were killed and 43 wounded when a shell from Fort Copacabana struck the liner.

The Brazilian authorities have promised a state burial for the victims and indemnity for the injured.

Officials of the line here branded as ridiculous reports from Rio de Janeiro that the Baden had been shelled because of its alleged failure to display a flag. Although the line stoutly maintained a flag must have been flown, it was pointed out the fortress could not have seen whether an emblem was displayed or not, as the vessel left the harbor in complete darkness.

R. L. BREHMER'S FLOAT WINNER OF BIG PARADE

Industrial Parade, Claimed Greatest, is Climax of Annual Event.

ARE ENTERED

Fine Friday, Saturday Crowds Bring Attendance Up.

In a blaze of hilarity and noise Circleville's 27th annual Pumpkin Show came to an end Saturday night with a large crowd of visitors from every point in Pickaway-co and central Ohio taking part in the celebration. Directors of the show Monday express their satisfaction at the crowds which gathered especially Friday and Saturday. Wednesday's crowd was typical of opening nights and a rain which started to fall early Thursday and continued throughout the day greatly reduced the crowd.

Taking into consideration the drought which swept the county during the greater part of the summer, the displays were excellent. Some of the classes showed a fine increase over previous shows both in size and quality of the display.

The feature of the Pumpkin Show as in other years was the industrial parade which was staged Friday and Saturday afternoons. In order to be eligible for a prize it was necessary for a contestant to take part in both afternoon's parades.

FLOAT OUTSTANDING

R. L. Brehmer, local Ford dealer, carried away first award in the parade with his float, an airplane mounted on an automobile. Of all the 31 entrants in the parade, this display of workmanship was outstanding. Practically everyone who witnessed the parade either Friday afternoon or Saturday afternoon was convinced that Brehmer's float was outstanding and one of the prettiest seen in years.

The float was done in white with trimmings of blue. Buddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brehmer, was the plane's pilot with David Hilyard and Caroline Herrmann in the automobile seats. Elsie Ann Brehmer and Biddy Dowden were standing at the back of the float.

The Circle City Dairy, milk distributors had their milk trucks also in line, lead by a pretty float. This display took second prize.

The third prize for a float went to the local Elks lodge No. 77, with a float which exemplified the lodge. Ferd M. Picken and Billie Bennett Heffner represented brotherly love; Eleanor Snyder, Charity; Evelyn Adkins, Quality; and Minnie Lyle, Fidelity. Five horses were ridden, one at each corner of the float, by Misses Ruth Holman, Gladys Steindor, Mabel Young, Ann Bennett and Mary Walters.

DRESSED IN PURPLE

All persons on the float and on the horses were dressed in the lodge colors, purple and white.

Fourth prize was awarded to Spangler and Hill with their truck filled with cattle, hogs, chickens and ducks marked "Farm Relief."

Fifth award went to the Four-H dairy heifer club showing dairy improvement.

On account of so many worthy entries in the parade, on recommendation of the judges, A. J. Best, Pittsburgh; Lee A. Wiser, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Clark Marion and Mrs. E. P. Cox, Hamilton, it was decided to give extra prizes.

S. C. Grant's display entitled, "Old King Coal," took an extra prize.

In the decorated automobile section, Lee Shaner with his car covered with rose-colored crepe paper, won first award. Second prize went to Mrs. Ned Buskirk, driving a Nash car decorated with rose crepe paper and showing original work.

SELECTS BEAT MT. STERLING GRID OUTFIT

Score Early In Game Then Told Edge to Come Out On Final Count 19-13.

Circleville Selects defeated Mt. Sterling's Yellowjackets at Mt. Sterling Sunday by a score of 19-13. The Selects were clearly a better ball club than the Yellowjackets but late in the game when the local manager had taken his first string backfield from the field and part of the line the villagers taking advantage of breaks crashed through for two touchdowns.

The first touchdown was made with the aid of a 25 yard penalty for substituting a man in the same half. The second was by virtue of a fumbled punt on the goal-line.

The Selects scored in the first period when a series of reverse plays took the ball to the three yard line. Andy Anderson from Williamsport was given the pigskin and he worked through the center of the line for the goal. Rosebush Rooney drop-kicked the extra point.

The second was scored when Don White broke loose near the sidelines and scampered 20 yards for the goal. Rooney, sent in to the game just to kick the point, failed. The third came when Don White drove hard through the line from the five yard mark. The kick again failed.

The Selects lost two points in the third period when the referee ruled that the Mt. Sterling safety man when tackled behind his own goal line did not commit a safety but a touchback, giving no one any points and putting the ball on play on the Mt. Sterling 20 yard line in their own possession.

The Select team looked fairly good in the skirmish although had they seen fit several more touchdowns might have been added. The team is well-balanced and with a few more practices and a little more deception they will be plenty tough to beat. Two linemen were outstanding in this fray with Wib Adkins, center, and Carl Walla, left tackle, tearing through time after time for tackles behind the Sterling line of scrimmage.

In the backfield Don White and Ralph Wallace looked good, both ripping off nice gains, White's coming around the flanks and Wallace's through his terrific lunging, Howard White, who played less than the first half, gained much yardage.

It is expected the Selects will play at home next Sunday against an opponent not yet selected.

KIPKE TEAM APPEARS 'IN'

'Stop Michigan' Is Cry of Western Conference Football Outfits.

BY LEO FISHER.

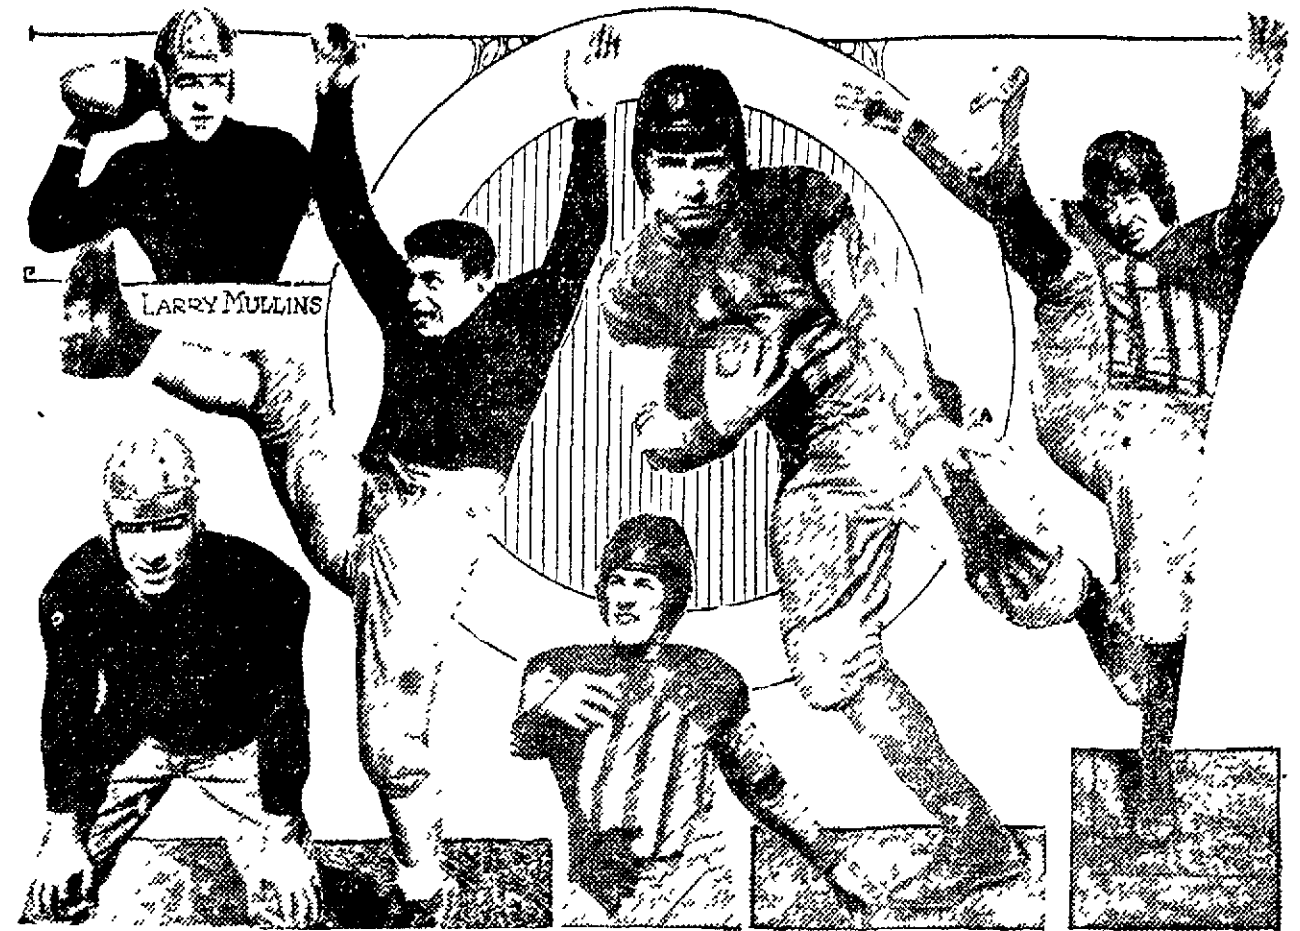

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—"Who will stop Michigan?" was the war cry in the Big Ten today as the annual football championship scramble enters its final phase.

The Wolverines, with three straight conference victories, are resting on top of the Big Ten standing. Thanks to Harry Newman, Illinois was sent away defeated from Ann Arbor, and now only Minnesota and Chicago remain on the Maize and Blue conference card, as obstacles in its pennant drive.

Michigan again demonstrated Saturday against the Illini, as it did against Ohio and Purdue, that it has a mediocre team which is likely to be turned into a championship aggregation by this chap Newman's forward passing. From scrimmage the Wolverines didn't average a yard each in something like 68 plays. They made just one first down on what might be considered ordinary football play.

But—and that's why the score wound up 15 to 7—Newman completed three out of four forward passes attempted. The first gave Michigan a touchdown four minutes after the game began. The second was a short one that Illinois intercepted barely in time to prevent another touchdown. The third was a 25-yard heave that brought the ball from mid-field into scoring range in the final quarter when the Illini began to threaten, and the fourth was over the goal line for the second Michigan score.

In between his passes Newman placed-kicked a goal for three additional points and did a bit of ball carrying with varying results.

Next in importance to Michigan's victory Saturday was Purdue's one-point triumph over Wisconsin. It was a sort of poetic justice for the Boilermakers to win by such a margin, since they lost their opening conference test to Michigan by the same slim edge. According to the statistics, Wisconsin outgained Purdue by 219 yards to 92.

The other conference teams either rested or engaged in practice games.

SPARTANS LOSE

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The Chicago Cardinals pro football team sent the Portsmouth, Spartans back home today with a 23 to 13 defeat.

With Nayer McClure and Lumpkin leading the drive Portsmouth scored two touchdowns early in the game. The Cards then launched a passing and line driving attack featured by Ernie Nevers, tying the score at the half. Nevers and his mates took the lead in the final quarter when the former All-American fullback booted a place kick and later, after a series of plunges, scored the final touchdown.

She was acclaimed the winner of a Charleston contest in the Texas city at the time Smith was playing a role in a stock company there. A theatrical agent who was writing publicity copy for each made them acquainted.

But, Delmar is but one of eight children in his family acting in "movies." The versatile youngsters of the Watson family range first appearance in a picture.

His role of "The Kid" in "Outside the Law" is Delmar's most dramatic characterization since his first appearance in a picture. "I predict that Delmar will be a real sensation when this play is shown to the public," Director Tod Browning remarked to the tot's father.

AT THE GRAND

The songs are by Jolson and Berlin and are given with all the fire and magnetism characteristic of the world's greatest entertainer. A splendid cast headed by Lois Moran, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Mitchell Lewis, Hobart Bosworth and Tully Marshall supports the star "Mammy" is making screen history.

WISCONSIN FACES OHIO ON SATURDAY

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 27.—Wisconsin returns here Saturday after a ten year absence to participate in Ohio State's annual "Homecoming." The Badgers are associated with the most thrilling era of Buckeye football and will be making their first appearance in the Ohio Stadium.

From 1913 to 1920, Ohio State and Wisconsin met each fall. Each won four victories. The record follows:

Mrs. Irvin Boggs had as her guests during Pumpkin Show and over the week-end, her sister, Mrs. Margaret Leist of Columbus, her daughter Miss Margaret Boggs and friend, Miss Molly Farnham of Cleveland and Mrs. Fannie Baker of Kingston.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS NOW DOWN TO 13

Frank Carideo Establishes Self As One of All-Time Quarterbacks.

By COPELAND C. BURG

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Football's grinding mills whirled into the home stream today, their crushing wheels jealously reaching out for new victims among the nation's dozen undefeated major elevens from coast to coast.

In the east, after Saturday's storm-tossed jousts, floated the unsullied colors of Cornell, Dartmouth and Fordham with the flag of Army, tied by Yale, draped somewhat at half-mast.

Notre Dame, Northwestern and Kansas remained undefeated in the midwest and Georgia, Alabama and Kentucky joined the proud troupe in the south while in the far west Washington State, Oregon and Utah continued among the select.

Gone the way of all flesh was the fate today of such hitherto unconquered outfits as Pitt, New York University, Penn State, Temple, Gettysburg, Wisconsin, Florida and Vanderbilt.

Knute Rockne's great Notre Dame eleven accounted for Pitt's 35 to 19, the Irish unrolling an almost perfect piece of brain football technique, backed by speed and power, before 75,000 gasping fans. Frank Carideo, the Notre Dame field general, by his campaign against Pitt cast out the slight doubt if any ever existed, of his right to join the all-time ranks of famed quarterbacks.

BOOTH HURT

Army wrote a 7 to 7 tie against Yale after eliminating Albie Booth, the Blue's best ball carrier, on his first play. There should be no question that the blow was a stunning one to Yale and no question, either, that Booth went out in a play that was free from unnecessary toughness.

Bill Morton's fine punting was the big factor that paved the way on a rain-soaked gridiron for Dartmouth's 7 to 2 triumph over Harvard, while a fumble placed Fordham in a position to score its lone and winning touchdown against New York University.

Kansas, sweeping along in the little six, added further claims to be classed as one of the nation's best by upsetting Iowa State 20 to 6 and Utah, undefeated in two years, gave evidence of snatching another Rocky Mountain conference title in bowling over Denver University 59 to 0. The Utes are demanding All-American recognition for Marvin Jones, their center who claims seven years of all victorious play in high and college. That huge tonnage machine of Alabama swept over Vanderbilt 12 to 7 and Kentucky used a second team backfield largely to wipe out Virginia 47 to 0. Northwestern snaggled Centre College 45 to 7 in a non-conference tilt. Georgia wended its Yale-strewn way by ousting Auburn 39 to 7.

WASHINGTON FEATURES

The temporary fading of the supremacy of California football was written as Oregon wiped up California 13 to 0, Washington State having previously defeated both California and Southern California. Washington State showed home town folks at Pullman a lot of football in wallowing Montana 61 to 0.

Failure to kick that all-important point after touchdown caused the downfall of Wisconsin to Purdue, 7 to 6 and of Florida to Furman, 14 to 13.

A Temple back fumbled while attempting a kick behind Temple's goal and the safety ensured won for Villanova, 8 to 7. Bucknell beat Gettysburg 26 to 6.

Both Navy and Southern California might have been expected to win but the Midlives' 31 to 0 smash over Princeton and the Trojans 41 to 12 story about Stanford were among the weekend's surprises.

Colgate, the strong eastern team defeated by Michigan State, downed Penn State 40 to 0 in a splendid return to form. Michigan, unbeaten but tied by Michigan State, added Illinois to its list, 15 to 7. Penn, Rutgers and Boston College won against minor opposition. Brown Beat Holy Cross, Tulane trounced Georgia Tech and Oklahoma defeated Kansas Aggies.

Carl Toensmeier, a student at Wooster College, was home visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Emil Toensmeier this week-end.

The Wolverines, with three straight conference victories, are resting on top of the Big Ten standing. Thanks to Harry Newman, Illinois was sent away defeated from Ann Arbor, and now only Minnesota and Chicago remain on the Maize and Blue conference card, as obstacles in its pennant drive.

Michigan again demonstrated Saturday against the Illini, as it did against Ohio and Purdue, that it has a mediocre team which is likely to be turned into a championship aggregation by this chap Newman's forward passing. From scrimmage the Wolverines didn't average a yard each in something like 68 plays. They made just one first down on what might be considered ordinary football play.

But—and that's why the score wound up 15 to 7—Newman completed three out of four forward passes attempted. The first gave Michigan a touchdown four minutes after the game began. The second was a short one that Illinois intercepted barely in time to prevent another touchdown. The third was a 25-yard heave that

AT THE CLIFTONA

Stanley Smith, who played two leading juvenile roles opposite Nancy Carroll, in "Sweetie" and "Honey," has the romantic male lead in "Queen High," Paramount production of the famous Schwab and Mandel stage success of the same name which is at the Cliftona Theatre.

In "Queen High" Smith renews the acquaintance of a girl he knew in Houston. She is Ginger Rogers and, in the picture, she is his sweetheart. She was acclaimed the winner of a Charleston contest in the Texas city at the time Smith was playing a role in a stock company there. A theatrical agent who was writing publicity copy for each made them acquainted.

AT THE MET

Since the very tender age of five weeks old, Delmar Watson, four, has been playing in motion pictures. Delmar has an important role in Universal's production "Outside the Law" the current attraction at the Met Theatre.

But, Delmar is but one of eight children in his family acting in the "movies." The versatile youngsters of the Watson family range first appearance in a picture.

His role of "The Kid" in "Outside the Law" is Delmar's most dramatic characterization since his first appearance in a picture. "I predict that Delmar will be a real sensation when this play is shown to the public," Director Tod Browning remarked to the tot's father.

AT THE GRAND

Last night's audience at the Grand Theatre greeted with wild enthusiasm Al Jolson in his latest Warner Bros. singing picture with Technicolor, "Mammy," which is his fourth and greatest Vitaphone production. "Mammy" is an epic of old time minstrel days adapted from Irving Berlin's play, "Mr. Bones." The songs are by Jolson and Berlin and are given with all the fire and magnetism characteristic of the world's greatest entertainer. A splendid cast headed by Lois Moran, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Mitchell Lewis, Hobart Bosworth and Tully Marshall supports the star, "Mammy" is making screen history.

Frank Carideo Establishes Self

Quarterbacks.

By COPELAND C. BURG

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Football's grinding mills whirled into the home stretch today, their crushing wheels jealously reaching out for new victims among the baker's dozen undefeated major eleven from coast to coast.

In the east, after Saturday's storm-ridden jousts, floated the unsullied colors of Cornell, Dartmouth and Fordham with the flag of Army, tied by Yale, draped somewhat at half-mast.

Notre Dame, Northwestern and Kansas remained undefeated in the midwest and Georgia, Alabama and Kentucky joined the proud troupe in the south while in the far west Washington State, Oregon and Utah continued among the select.

Gone the way of all flesh was the fate today of such hitherto unconquered outfits as Pitt, New York University, Penn State, Temple, Gettysburg, Wisconsin, Florida and Vanderbilt.

Knut Rockne's great Notre Dame eleven accounted for Pittsburgh 35 to 19, the Irish unrolling an almost perfect piece of brainy football technique, backed by speed and power, before 75,000 gasping fans. Frank Carideo, the Notre Dame field general, by his campaign against Pitt cast out the slight doubt if any ever existed, of his right to join the all-time ranks of famed quarterbacks.

BOOTH HURT

Army wrote a 7 to 7 tie against Yale after eliminating Albie Booth, the Blue's best ball carrier, on his first play. There should be no question that the blow was a stunning one to Yale and no question, either, that Booth went out in a play that was free from unnecessary roughness.

Bill Morton's fine punting was the big factor that paved the way on a rain-soaked gridiron for Dartmouth's 7 to 2 triumph over Harvard, while a fumble placed Fordham in a position to score its lone and winning touchdown against New York University.

Kansas, sweeping along in the little six, added further claims to be classed as one of the nation's best by upsetting Iowa State 20 to 6 and Utah, undefeated in two years, gave evidence of snatching another Rocky Mountain conference title in bowling over Denver University 59 to 0. The Utes are demanding All-American recognition for Marvin Jonas, their center who claims seven years of all victorious play in high and college.

That huge tonnage machine of Alabama swept over Vanderbilt 12 to 7 and Kentucky used a second team backfield largely to wipe out Virginia 47 to 0. Northwestern snugged Centre College 45 to 7 in a non-conference tilt. Georgia wended its Yale-strewn way by ousting Auburn 39 to 7.

WASHINGTON FEATURES

The temporary fading of the supremacy of California football was written as Oregon wiped up California 13 to 0, Washington State having previously defeated both California and Southern California. Washington State showed home town folks at Pullman a lot of football in walloping Montana 61 to 0.

Failure to kick that all-important point after touchdown caused the downfall of Wisconsin to Purdue, 7 to 6 and of Florida to Furman, 14 to 13.

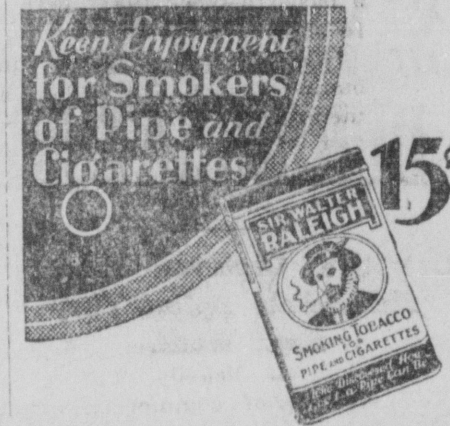

A Temple back fumbled while attempting a kick behind Temple's goal and the safety ensue won for Villanova, 8 to 7. Bucknell beat Gettysburg 26 to 6.

Both Navy and Southern California might have been expected to win but the Middies' 31 to 0 smash over Princeton and the Trojans 41 to 12 story about Stanford were among the weekend's surprises.

Colgate, the strong eastern team defeated by Michigan State, downed Penn State 40 to 0 in a splendid return to form. Michigan, unbeaten but tied by Michigan State, added Illinois to its list, 15 to 7. Penn, Rutgers and Boston College won against minor opposition. Brown Beat Holy Cross, Tulane trounced Georgia Tech and Oklahoma defeated Kansas Aggies.

Carl Toensmeier, a student at Wooster College, was home visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Emil Toensmeier this week-end.

HOLIDAY RUSH MAY AID DRAB BUSINESS YEAR

Feeling of Optimism Among Merchants Lends Power To National Idea.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Christmas trade may be one of the important factors which will furnish a roseate end to a drab business year and place trade on a basis to meet 1931 with some feeling of optimism.

With plenty of money in the banks—around $40,000,000,000 in members of the reserve system alone—it was pointed out today, there are prospects for a brisk holiday retail business, despite the business depression.

This opinion was based upon the record last year. Although the stock market crashed in mid-autumn, industrial production slumped heavily and a general feeling of commercial pessimism became widespread, Christmas business "pepped up" and sales were substantially as large as in the record spending season of 1928.

Money if circulation has shown a heavy decline since last year and during the Christmas season unquestionably will be much smaller than last year. Sept. 30, there was $4,501,535,000 outside of the treasury and the reserve banks, but this will increase substantially until the end of the Christmas buying season, although probably not to as great a degree as in former years.

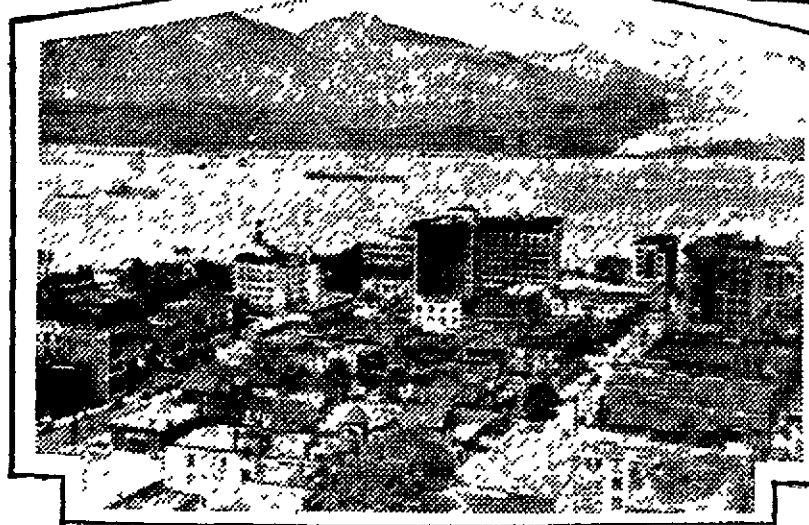

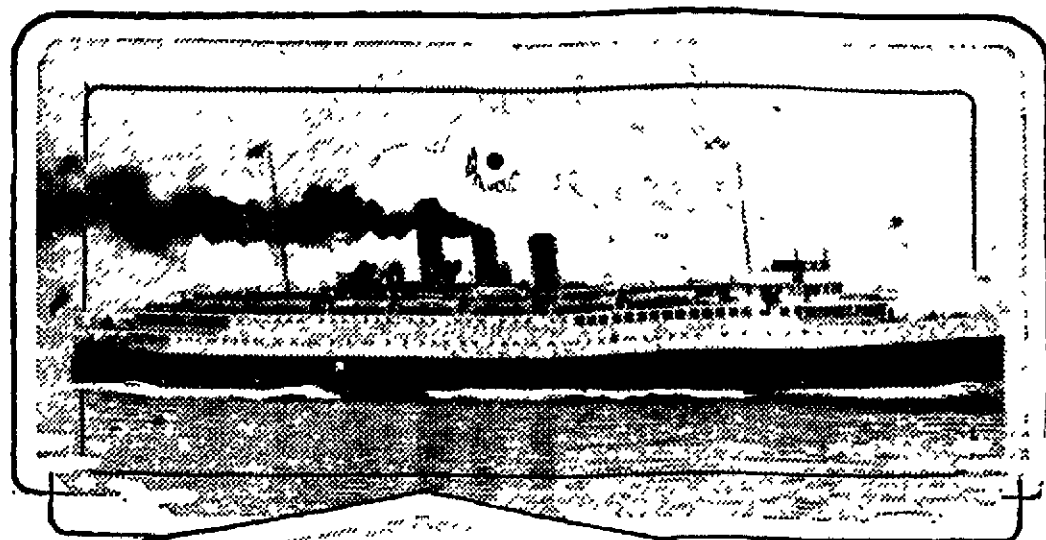

If the suggestion of some authorities are followed, Christmas and other fall and winter business may be stimulated by some relaxation of consumer credit and undoubtedly there will be some extension of installment buying which will tend to put commodities in motion. In many cities during December the large department and other stores handling Christmas goods advertise that credit may be extended so that the bills may be paid in February, instead of the subsequent month to which the sale was made.

While credit extension of this character to persons without jobs would be unusual, nevertheless those with regular incomes might be stimulated to buy to a greater extent than otherwise, thus tending to stimulate the movement of goods and so create employment.

During the period of the depression there has been a substantial increase in the volume of idle money. While reports for the last bank survey, that of September, have not yet been compiled, figures show that total deposits of all member banks of the reserve system on June 30, showed a gain of $2,246,347,000 in a year, and a gain of slightly more than that since March. Time deposits which include savings increased $486,000,000 in a year and $293,000,000 since March.

Vancouver, Victoria and Wonderful Vancouver Island Popular Resorts Where Chill Winter Is Dethroned

VANCOUVER FROM VANCOUVER HOTEL

TOTEM POLE, VICTORIA

Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia, are rapidly increasing their popularity as winter playgrounds. Their mild, equable climate and the fact that the golfer can enjoy his game the year round make these two interesting places ideal spots to visit during the late fall and winter, when cold and sometimes snow and ice elsewhere preclude the holiday-maker from enjoying the great outdoors to the utmost. Vancouver is the gateway to miles and miles of unspoiled and most primal territory including Stanley Park, in Vancouver itself, with its huge Douglas firs and interesting Indian totem poles, relics of a famous race. Fine beaches and golf clubs are readily accessible to visitors. Victoria, charmingly situated on the southern end of Vancouver Island, is the capital of British Columbia and is essentially a "home city" despite its fine shops and hotels, including the beautiful Empress Hotel, recently enlarged. Victoria is easy to reach via the Canadian Pacific "Princess" steamers—miniature ocean liners—to which fleet, has recently been added the new "Princess Elizabeth" and "Princess Joan," vessels of 5,500 tons, which crossed the Atlantic and steamed through the Panama Canal to the Pacific under their own power. The celebrated "triangle route," Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, is served by equally fine vessels equipped with all modern conveniences and cozy state-rooms. From Victoria delightful excursions may be made into the interior of Vancouver Island, either by the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway or by automobile. Excellent hotels are located at Cameron Lake and elsewhere. Fine fishing for salmon and trout is available at numerous places. The immense Douglas fir forests of the interior make a trip there well worth while.

There are 150,466 fewer farms now in the United States than there were 10 years ago. This is a decrease equal to 2.3 per cent of the total. In Ohio the decrease amounted to 14.4 per cent.

Seed corn panics may be easily averted if the two causes of dear seed are prevented. Both cases are due to too much moisture—freezing and mold. Careful drying in the fall and early winter safeguards seed corn against injury.

Features of the homecoming will include annual fall meeting of the Ohio Ceramic Industries Association, semi-annual meeting of directors of the Ohio State University Association, third annual Ohio Journalism Hall of Fame dinner, third annual All-Ohio Newspaper conference, first reunion of graduates of the college of dentistry, and homecoming dance and parade.

About 100 ceramists are expected for their meeting which begins Friday morning and continues through Saturday noon. Several hundred dentists will attend their reunion starting Friday afternoon. More than 150 reservations have been made for the journalism hall of fame dinner Friday night, when the names of E. W. Scripps, co-founder of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, and James W. Falkner, famous political editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, will be added to the roster. The speakers will be Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and former Governor James M. Cox.

Between 200 and 300 Ohio newspapermen are expected Saturday morning for the journalism conference. The speakers will be Robert P. Scripps, of the Scripps-Howard newspapers; Prof. H. H. Maynard, chairman, department of business organization, and Asst. Prof. Kenneth Dameron, in charge of advertising classes.

A homecoming queen will be chosen Tuesday at a student election. She will be crowned Friday night at the annual homecoming dance.

Farmers in 60 Ohio counties benefitted by reduced freight rates to the extent of $200,000 on the 3400 cars of feed shipped to farms short of feed from areas of surplus production, it is estimated.

Ears of corn stunted by the drought may be safely used for seed corn next year in spite of their small size. The dry weather has no effect upon the heredity of the corn, according to farm crops specialists.

There are 150,466 fewer farms now in the United States than there were 10 years ago. This is a decrease equal to 2.3 per cent of the total. In Ohio the decrease amounted to 14.4 per cent.

Seed corn panics may be easily averted if the two causes of dead seed are prevented. Both causes are due to too much moisture—freezing and mold. Careful drying in the fall and early winter safeguards seed corn against injury.

Prosperity

PROSPERITY is up for election, running to overthrow DEPRESSION.

It's for the people to decide which will be chosen. Every man and every woman is privileged to ballot—every day.

DEPRESSION has no rightful place with a hundred and twenty million people, exchanging goods and services—capable—accustomed and willing to work—more highly skilled than other people—leaders in efficiency and progressiveness—backed by the vast natural resources of the United States. When we make it possible for the man who works to have a job we make it possible for him to buy food for his family and so help all business, including that of the farmer.

The rest of the world is of small importance compared with that free market of 120,000,000 people—homogeneous—of like tastes, habits and aspirations—living under the same laws—free of trade barriers. Foreign trade may be troubled by tariffs and revolutions, but at their peak our exports represented only five and a half billions of dollars of gross business in a year out of a total American income of ninety billions.

Stagnation of circulation is what's the matter with agriculture and with business. Everyone can help to get that circulation moving again.

Government can't make Prosperity—alone. Bankers and other business leaders can't make Prosperity—alone. It's the people, united in opinion and purpose and courage, who determine Prosperity. They can elect it—none other.

Ballots that will be validly counted for PROSPERITY are of many kinds. Some one of them every man and woman can cast. For example:

Help a deserving man or a woman to get a little paying work—or, better, a regular job.

Spend wisely and not too timidly, and anticipate scheduled expenditures so far as is practical.

Turn the deaf ear to false, mischievous rumors; and don't repeat them, if you do hear them.

Be willing to pay a fair price. Don't take advantage of the other man's necessity. Recognize that he has as good claim to a fair profit as you.

When a vampire that fattens on the miseries of others shows up, help to make him unpopular.

Discourage calamity howlers.

Keep business moving evenly and remember that, to the average man, his job is his particular business. When possible, reassure him against his fear of losing it.

Save, but save wisely, not in fright. Invest for the profit that sound enterprise pays and for the added profit that will come after the hysteria of pessimism has passed.

Parasitic seeds have been known to germinate after being kept two years in a vacuum.

READY TO DIVIDE UP

"JUDY" By Winifred Van Duzer

A WEEK aboard the S. S. Mohawk has changed Judith Archer from a serious-minded, unromantic school teacher into a carefree, pleasure-loving young woman. She receives the attentions of Kit Camp, the ship's radio operator, and Tris Millet, fascinating figure of mystery, while her mother is attracted by a Mr. Tennant. Shortly after reading of the robbery of the famous Ballard emeralds, Judy sees Tris talking with a scar-faced man, whom he previously denied knowing. Questioned regarding his work, Tris becomes vague. That night, while they are strolling on deck, a man attacks Tris. Tris tells Judy he was mistaken for someone else. Kit's expression when he sees Judy with Tris, makes Judy uncomfortable. Judy asks Tris about his life.

CHAPTER XXII

"DISREGARD the past!

Only today matters—and tomorrow. Got up in the middle of the night to tell you this, my sweet." His look turned quickly from her puzzled frown, the question in her eyes.

"Well, then—well, then. Home—

Chicago; family—yes and no.

What newspapers call 'pillars of society' do you see? Honey—that sort of thing. Don't fancy a grasp sheep in their midst. Not black,

Judy—only spotty gray. The prodigal son. But unrepentant."

He was so gleeful about it that she had to laugh. "So the prodigal fares in far countries? Feeds on hush?"

"Not as a rule." A snap to that; hardness beneath his easy race.

"You've longed for adventure, too.

Would you give it up because sometimes there's coffee and sinkers instead of caviar? Tang to the cup, sweet. Open road—freedom of the world. Rather than the safe and stodgy narrow way."

"Yes!" Her face was a white flame raised to his.

He bent over, gave her a long, intent look. "Now I'll go, Judy.

Wanted this—to speak to you."

He caught her hands, put her palms together and pressed them in a lingering grip, left her without a smile, another word.

She turned to watch him, thought kindle to his vibrant lure. Sometimes he was coming along the deck;

someone stood beside her, waiting in a sure patience.

Judy knew it was Kit Camp—knew by the exasperation that tightened along her spine. Why did he always make her want to beat against him with her fists, to cry at him. "Oh, think you're the anointed—the sovereign male!"

She would be swept by this fury and then her mood would soften with pleasure in his carefree poise,

the grave honesty of his full lips,

his green eyes.

She brought her gaze from the long, terrifying line of white on the horizon—surf beating at the shore of Antioch Island which was drawing toward the West now—flicked it across his big figure lounging against the rail. The expression he had worn last night was in his face; curiosity, speculation.

Protest, too. Well—why?

He had seen her standing there with Tris. Why a Tris leaning down and brushing a kiss against her cheek—had he seen this also?

Heat swept her; in a quick, em-barassed way she said: "You're here today, Kit? After what's been going on—all the excitement—well,

I thought you'd be drifting into sweet repose. Or perhaps the insouciant Mr. Doyle traded shifts again so you could point out scenic glories to lady land-lubbers?"

The even whiteness of his teeth flashed. "The insouciant Mr.

Doyle held wassail last night and overslept. What especially was going on? Seemed a lame enough night to your star reporter friend.

We—editorially speaking—need news for the Radiogram this cloudy day."

WALKER PLANS RELIEF WORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Steps furthering plans for unemployment relief in New York were underway with the beginning of a city wide canvass by policemen of the jobless on their beats and preparations by the emergency employment committee to raise a fund of $150,000 weekly for aiding men and women out of work.

Meanwhile Mayor Walker, who directed the authorities to tabulate the idle workers, was considering a proposal to use the Bronx terminal market as a shelter for the homeless.

The emergency employment committee expects to start its actual drive within ten days. It is the intention of that body, composed of business men, to expend the $150,000 on jobs at $3 a day for married workers.

One of Mayor Walker's plans is to ask every city employee to give $1 a month from his salary for relief purposes. It is estimated that with larger donations from executives the total will be approximately $100,000 monthly from this fund alone.

Soybean seeds deteriorate very rapidly. It is best to store them in cool, dry places, and to test for germination, before sowing, all seed produced prior to 1930.

Tubers of dahlias, contrary to a popular belief, store better over winter if the stems are placed up.

The Ancients Also Had a Cure for Headaches

—and We Haven't Advanced Much Farther

Instead of Drilling to Permit Evil Spirits to Escape, We Moderns Resort to Drugs; Eliminating the Cause Is the Sensible Cure, Says Authority

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

IN ANCIENT times it was believed headaches were due to evil spirits within the head. The cure for headaches in that day consisted in boring holes through the skull, so that the spirits might escape. We have testimony of this practice in the borings found in skulls recovered in recent excavations.

Modern civilization has not removed these evil spirits and yet we still suffer from headaches. Instead of the drilling to relieve the pain we moderns resort to all sorts of patent medicines. I wonder if this practice is not just as silly.

The drug habit is an exceedingly dangerous practice. Medicines that relieve headaches merely remove the pain; the cause of the headache is left untouched. Further, the habit of taking to medicines for the relief of pain is likely to be injurious to the health.

Headache is not a disease. It is a sign that some part of the body is not working properly. Headache may be caused by various disorders of the body. Anemia, high blood pressure, kidney diseases, sinusitis and defective eyesight are some of the common causes. Constipation, digestive disorders, slouching posture in walking and standing—and in women, uterine diseases, frequently cause headaches.

In young children headache is one of the first signs of some infectious disease. It should never be ignored.

Answers to Health Queries

A READER. Q.—What causes a boy of 13 to be troubled with unbearable pain around the heart? He sometimes last for an hour or more, and as so intense as to cause him to shiver and moan?
A.—What causes gray hair and what can be done to restore the color?
Q.—What can be done for wrinkles beneath the eyes?
A.—Have the heart examined. The trouble may be due to several different and the temperature should be taken at once. If the headache persists, the pulse is rapid and the child has temperature, send for your doctor at once. Where severe vomiting is present in addition to the above picture, never delay in consulting your physician.

There is a distinct type of headache which seems to run in families. This type is spoken of as "migraine." Little is known of this condition outside of the fact that it does occur in families and is believed to be hereditary.

The tendency is there all the time, but many things can bring on an attack of migraine. Such factors as powerful emotional disturbances of any type, severe mental or physical fatigue and digestive disturbances are the most common causes.

Migraine attacks are more or less periodical. They may occur on the same day every week, or every two weeks, or about once a month. The individual usually knows in advance about when he will have an attack.

In view of the fact that most headaches of this sort are usually associated with some nausea and at times vomiting, people believe that it is due to some error in diet. This is not true. Gastro-intestinal disturbances are usually present as a sign of the trouble, but they are not the cause of the headache.

The underlying cause of the headache must be determined and removed, if possible. Until then, may not say we are "curing" the headache. No permanent relief from headaches will be accomplished unless this is done.

In general avoidance of excitement, regularity in meals, proper bowel elimination and moderation in diet are the most important rules to follow. Some persons are benefited by a strictly vegetable diet and the taking of alkaline waters. The treatment of all cases depends entirely on the removal of the cause upon which the attacks depend.

YOUTH FOUND DEAD IN BRUSH

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 27.—Officers today were investigating the deaths of Woodrow S. Wilson and Burton Hensley, who were found burning to death in a fire of sticks and brush in a lonely swamp on the Arkansas banks of the Mississippi River.

The youths, both of Bald Creek, N. C., died here last night, a few hours after they were found. Physicians examining the bodies said they apparently had been beaten six or eight hours before they were found.

Neither of the youths was bound, although they were both in an unconscious condition when they were found. Numerous blows apparently had been rained on their skulls.

Information from the youths' home in Bald Creek, N. C., said they had left there Oct. 14 in an automobile on a tour of the country. They attended high school in Bald Creek, and each was 17 years old.

The authorities searched for the automobile but thus far have found no trace of it.

MAN SUICIDES IN POSTOFFICE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—Police sought the identity of a man of about 48 years of age, who is said to have committed suicide in the postoffice in Lakewood, a residential suburb, by shooting himself with a revolver taken from a drawer at the postoffice.

A postal clerk discovered a window broken in a side door of the building and called police who discovered the man's body. The bullet had entered the skull. Police were unable to find any clues as to the man's identity on his clothing.

ENGINE CRASH FATAL TO MAN

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27—One man was dead and two others were in a serious condition here today as the result of a collision of a Nickel Plate railroad train near the Cleveland Erie station late last night.

Harley R. Chase, 46, Cleveland, engineer of the switch engine, died at St. Alexis hospital less than an hour after a fire rescue squad had recovered him from the tangled mess of wreckage. One leg had been crushed. It was amputated by physicians a few minutes before he died.

The injured men were Thomas Patterson, 32, Cleveland, conductor on the switch engine, and Russell Lyons, 25, Conneaut, fireman on the same locomotive.

Patterson sustained deep scalp wounds and severe burns about the legs. Lyons was cut about the face and suffered a broken jaw. Both were taken to St. Alexis hospital where their condition was reported as serious. Lyons was unconscious when he was removed to the hospital.

John Buckley, 30, Cleveland, brakeman on the switch engine, who was riding on the tender, jumped to safety a few seconds before the crash.

Early Steel Needles The Chinese are believed to have been the first to use steel needles, and these implements gradually found their way westward and were brought into Europe by the Moors.

WOMAN BREAKS UNDER GRILLING

DENVER, Oct. — Breaking under the terrific grilling that police have imposed upon her, Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, today made "glaring admissions" that police declare will virtually clear up the mysterious murder of her ten-year-old stepchild, Leona O'Loughlin.

After withstanding a dramatic two hour inquisition on the part of her husband, Detective Leo O'Loughlin, late yesterday, Mrs. O'Loughlin was brought before Captain of Detectives Clark and Chief of Police Reed again last night. From 9:15 until 4:30 this morning she underwent a merciless grilling, her iron nerve snapped and she was taken back to her cell in city jail in partial collapse.

Captain Clark said there was no formal "confession."

"But she talked," he declared, "and we will go into the details of her admissions later on."

Captain Clark himself was so exhausted after the all-night battle of wits with the "woman of cast iron nerve" that he was in a state of collapse himself. He was taken to his home for some rest. Clark has worked day and night since Mrs. O'Loughlin's arrest last Sunday in an effort to break down her reiterated denials of any knowledge of the circumstances that led to little Leona's death.

"She cracked," was Clark's weary remark.

"I expect to get more details of her admission later on," was all he would say.

Mrs. O'Loughlin was carried from the inquisition room back to her cell to await further questioning today.

Miss Mary D. Karshner of Pickaway-twp., has received her elementary school life certificate issued by the state board of education. Miss Karshner is a graduate of Ohio University and for the past eight years has been a successful teacher in Ross-co schools. This year she is teaching in Tarlton village schools.

Mrs. John Willis of Clarksburg spent the week with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Criswell.

WOMAN BREAKS UNDER GRILLING

DENVER, Oct. — Breaking under the terrific grilling that police have imposed upon her, Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, today made "glaring admissions" that Police declare will virtually clear up the mysterious murder of her ten-year-old stepchild, Leona O'Loughlin.

After withstanding a dramatic two hour inquisition on the part of her husband, Detective Leo O'Loughlin, late yesterday, Mrs. O'Loughlin was brought before Captain of Detectives Clark and Chief of Police Reed again last night.

From 9:15 until 4:30 this morning she underwent a merciless grilling, her iron nerve snapped and she was taken back to her cell in city jail in partial collapse.

Captain Clark said there was no formal "confession."

"But she talked," he declared, "and we will go into the details of her admissions later on."

Captain Clark himself was so exhausted after the all-night battle of wits with the "woman of a state iron nerve" that he was in a state of collapse himself. He was taken to his home for some rest. Clark has worked day and night since Mrs. O'Loughlin's arrest last Sunday in an effort to break down her reiterated denials of any knowledge of the circumstances that led to little Leona's death.

"She cracked," was Clark's weary remark.

"I expect to get more details of her admission later on," was all he would say.

Mrs. O'Loughlin was carried from the inquisition room back to her cell to await further questioning today.

Miss Mary D. Karshner of Pickaway-twp, has received her elementary school life certificate issued by the state board of education. Miss Karshner is a graduate of Ohio University and for the past eight years has been a successful teacher in Ross-co schools. This year she is teaching in Tarlton village schools.

Mrs. John Willis of Clarksburg spent the week with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Criswell.
